

LOCAL PROPERTY IS PURCHASED BY HIGH POINT CO.

TWO RESIDENCES WILL MAKE WAY FOR NEW SERVICE STATION

One of the largest real estate sales involving the downtown business district has been consummated with the result that, Ohio Oil Co. and High Point Oil Co. have acquired the southwest corner of Washington street and its intersection with Locust street. The two properties involved were owned by Mrs. Edith I. Lewis of Speedway City and John Tzouanakis of Greencastle. The property involved has a frontage of 115 feet on Washington and 117 feet on Locust street. Work will get underway this winter and plans call for the completion of one of the finest modern service stations in the spring of next year.

The announcement of the purchase was made by L. C. Goodhue, High Point representative for this area. In his statement, Mr. Goodhue said that a service station embodying the latest design for the dispensing of oils and gasolines will be erected with the convenience of the customer in mind. The entire area will be used for the service station and other facilities associated with this business.

High Point Oil Co. has a definite link with Greencastle. It was organized here about thirty years ago, and is now the distributor and jobber for the Ohio Oil Co. for Central Indiana, being the largest distributor for this concern. N. E. Kelb, president of High Point, lived in Greencastle for many years, and his son, Edwin Kelb, is its vice president. E. A. Dehnst, secretary and treasurer, is also a former resident of this city. Mr. Goodhue has been its representative in this area for the past seven years. Thirteen bulk plants are in operation in Central Indiana.

The High Point Oil Co. is presently erecting a commodious station in Bainbridge at the intersection of Road No. 36 and the Roachdale Road, the principal intersection in the north Putnam town. The formal opening is planned for November. Hal Hickman, well known Greencastle realtor, handled the real estate transfers in Greencastle and Bainbridge.

YOUNG WOMAN IS KILLED IN TWO-CAR CRASH

MRS. DONNA JEAN CURRAN FATALITY INJURED AT BARNARD

Mrs. Donna Jean Curran, 18, wife of Everett Curran of Franklin township, was instantly killed shortly after two o'clock Sunday morning when the automobile driven by her husband collided with a car driven by Lester Booker, 16, Roachdale, at the cross roads at Barnard.

State police who investigated said that the Currans were driving east toward their home, just across the county line in Hendricks County and Booker was westbound on Ind. 236.

According to the officers, Booker attempted a left turn in front of the Curran car, a '49 Chevrolet coupe. It and Booker's '41 Chevrolet met almost head-on in the east-bound traffic lane, troopers said.

Booker had received his beginner's driving permit only two days before the fatal crash, state police reported.

Mrs. Curran's death was attributed to a fractured skull by Putnam County coroner Homer Semds.

Curran is a patient at Putnam County Hospital in Greencastle. He suffered a dislocated right ankle, lacerations of the head and face and possible head and chest injuries and is not thought to be in serious condition.

Booker was taken to Culver Hospital in Crawfordville. His injuries were a fractured left forearm, various lacerations and possible chest injuries and possible fractured skull. His condition was termed "good."

Mrs. Curran was born in Putnam County on March 11, 1936, the daughter of Ernest and Carleen James Carrington. She was married to Everett Curran on May 15 of this year.

The couple had joined the Barnard Baptist Church just two weeks ago.

She was a 1955 graduate of Roachdale High School.

SUMMERFIELD CONFERS WITH EISENHOWER

POSTMASTER GENERAL VISITS PRESIDENT THIS MORNING

DENVER, Oct. 31.—(UP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a key patronage figure in the Republican administration, had a scheduled conference with President Eisenhower this morning and the temporary White House insisted it was about Post Office affairs—not politics.

This discussion was termed "non-political," concerning only "Post Office Department matters," similar to Mr. Eisenhower's conferences with other cabinet officials held in the Fitzsimons Army Hospital suite since his coronary thrombosis on Sept. 24.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said there was a good possibility the three remaining cabinet members who have not seen the President at the hospital would fly to Denver before the Chief Executive returns East for convalescence, sometime next week. They include Sinclair Weeks, Commerce; James P. Mitchell, Labor, and Marion B. Folsom, Health, Education and Welfare.

Mr. Eisenhower celebrated the beginning of his sixth week of recovery by walking about his suite more than he had ever done before his attack. The medical reports continue encouraging.

But the political winds howled about his strong support of Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson after their conference here late Saturday.

British Expect Answer Soon

BULLETIN

Princess Margaret announced this afternoon that she would marry Peter Townsend with whom her name has been linked. The announcement said that the decision was her own.

UCKFIELD, England Oct. 31 (NU)—A palace official's mid-night call on Princess Margaret sent speculation racing across Britain today that her engagement to Peter Townsend will be announced this week.

It was considered possible that he brought the draft text of an announcement to the lonely country house where Margaret spent the weekend with Townsend.

Capt. Oliver Dawnay, private secretary to Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, hurried into the princess' Uckfield House retreat with a police escort at 11 p. m. and departed shortly after midnight and raced off to London in a chauffeur-driven Jaguar at a 95-mile-an-hour clip.

This was Dawnay's second trip in two days to see Margaret.

County Teams To Start Net Play

Putnam county high school basketball teams will open the 1955-56 hardwood court season this Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The Russellville Bees will tilt the lid, so to speak, on Tuesday when they travel to Tangier.

Roachdale's Hawks will also perform Tuesday night, meeting Ladoga at Ladoga.

Fillmore Cardinals, defending sectional champions, will be host to an old rival, the Cloverdale Clovers Wednesday night and the East Putnam gym should be crowded for this contest.

The same evening Reelsville's Indians, journey to Coacanon.

Cloverdale also has a second contest carded for this week as the Clovers are scheduled to clash with Belle Union in the Reelsville gymnasium on Friday night.

Greencastle's Tiger Cubs will not see action until Friday, November 11, when they travel to Mitchell to clash with the Bluejackets.

First Snowfall At 4 P. M. Sunday

Putnam county had its first snow of the season Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The flakes were rather large and damp and the snowfall was brisk for a few minutes. The temperature at the time was 38 degrees.

Sunday morning was sunny and pleasant with the day's maximum temperature being recorded at noon when it was 47. The sky in the west and north then darkened and the snow then followed a light, misty rain.

The minimum for the night was 35 but at 7:30 Monday morning the mercury had climbed five degrees and it was 40 with the sun again very much in evidence.

U. S. PROPOSAL

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 31 (UP)—The United States will propose in the United Nations main political committee today that a commission be established to make a global study of the effects of atomic radiation on human health and safety.

The hazard of atomic radiation was named Friday as the next subject for political committee debate. The vote was 49 to five with 2 abstentions despite a Russian bid to force an immediate debate in the committee.

The U. S. proposal, informed sources reported, will be that a special commission be established to gather reports from government on the hazards and prevention of atomic radiation.

MOLOTOV HOLDS KEY TO GENEVA PARLEY UNITY

WESTERN DIPLOMATS SEE LITTLE CHANCE OF AN AGREEMENT

GENEVA, Oct. 31.—(UP)—Israeli reports said today Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov may offer to join the Western Big Three in their 1956 pact guaranteeing the status quo in the Middle East.

There was no confirmation of the reports in Geneva where Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett has conferred separately with the American and British foreign secretaries and hoped to see Molotov today.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan saw Molotov over the week end and warned him that the Communist sale of arms to Egypt threatened world peace and violated the "spirit of Geneva."

Informed sources said Molotov merely listened frozen-faced. Dulles and MacMillan called a morning meeting with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay today for an urgent review of the Middle East.

Tuesday Dulles takes advantage of a one-day break in the negotiations and flies to Madrid to see Generalissimo Francisco Franco. Dulles has scheduled a "side trip" to Yugoslavia next week end to see President Tito as well.

The United States is building new air bases in Spain which would double its present strategic bases in unsettled French Morocco.

Moroccan attention was centered on the Middle East, but the Western powers hoped today to make out new Soviet proposals on German unity and European security to lift the Big Four conference out of its deadlock.

The ministers turn today to point three of their agenda—improving contacts between East and West. But this subject is to be turned over quickly to experts while the ministers go back to the more pressing problems of Germany and European security.

Western delegates were awaiting with interest "new security proposals" which Molotov announced he would introduce at today's session. Molotov's proposals of Friday were so obviously unacceptable that Western diplomats could only assume his new offer might contain concessions.

But, barring a major climb down by Molotov, which no one expected, Western diplomats saw little prospect of agreement.

Old Gold Stops Beloit, 19 To 12

DePauw's surprising Tigers stopped undefeated Beloit by a 19 to 12 decision in a Dad's Day football game on the rain-soaked gridiron at Blackstock Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Coach Mike Snavely's squad wasted very little time in going about their job of snapping the visiting Wisconsin team's six-game winning streak.

Taking the initial kick-off, the Old Gold gridders marched down the field, climaxing a 73 yard drive when Morrie Goodnight plunged over from the one for the first touchdown. Tom Holt-nouse kicked the extra point and DePauw led, 7-0 at the quarter.

In the second period, Art Bryant broke loose for a 42-yard jaunt into paydirt to make the score 13-0.

Quarterback Rod Hermes kept Beloit in the contest during this quarter with two left-handed forward passes that resulted in two touchdowns which incidentally gave Tiger fans the jitters.

Hermes tossed to End Dave Lyon on a play that covered 25 yards for a t.d.

A short time later, he again portended the pigskin to Halfback King Kovac that was good for 65 yards and another score. Both of Beloit's attempts to convert were wide of the uprights and at the half it was DePauw 13; Beloit 12.

Neither side could get very far in the third frame, most of the action taking place between the two 30 yard stripes.

In the fourth quarter, the Tigers capitalized on Beloit penalties and Don Boveri plunged over from the one to give DePauw an insurance touchdown.

That was it, and the Old Gold players trotted off the field with a well-earned 19 to 12 victory over a tough Wisconsin aggregation.

DePauw's record is now 4-3 with a tilt scheduled at Indiana State this coming Saturday and Wabash here for the season's finale on November 12.

Tiger Runners Defeat Wabash

Six of the first eight finishers were gold shirts in a cross-country meet here Saturday as DePauw dumped Wabash, 22-33, between halves of the DePauw-Beloit football game.

It was Bengals' sixth straight victory and gave them a fine record of six wins and one loss in dual competition. The single setback came at the hands of Ball State in the initial meet.

Next Friday will have a chance to avenge Ball State's earlier triumph during the ICC and Little State competition on Indianapolis' South Grove course.

In Saturday's meet with Wabash, the visitors' Grant Van Horn took first in 18-17, one second ahead of Bill Blake, a first-year runner for DePauw.

Another Tiger freshman, Ron Young, finished third in 18-43, followed by DePauw's Dick Shersberger, 19-47, and Jim Shively of Wabash, 18-53.

DePauw sewed up its decision by landing the next three places on the performances of Gerry Herman, 19-09, and Dave Clark and Duane Osborn, both timed in 19-11.

Coach Bob Harvey saw his runners gain an even more decisive win over Wabash than they had a week earlier, when DePauw defeated the Cavemen 22-34.

Chapel Speakers Listed For Week

University professors will dominate the DePauw convocation scene this week, with Harvard and the local institution each contributing a single speaker.

Harvard's contribution is the former Librarian of Congress and noted poet, Archibald MacLeish, who will come to the campus here for a chapel address on Friday.

The Wednesday worship chapel will feature Dr. Malcolm Correll, head of the physics department at DePauw. Topic of Dr. Correll's talk will be "Interpretations."

Both convocations are scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. in Goble Memorial Methodist Church.

Dr. Correll joined the De-

Pauw staff in 1952 after serving as chairman of physical sciences at Oklahoma A. & M. and as visiting lecturer of natural science at the University of Chicago.

Recipient of the Ph. D. degree from Chicago, he completed his undergraduate work at Indiana University.

MacLeish has authored numerous volumes of prose and poetry, including "Conquistador," for which he won the 1932 Pulitzer poetry prize.

A member of the Harvard faculty since 1949, he will speak on the subject, "Power of Poetry," at Friday's convocation.

Mr. Abel Stumbles Into A Four Heart Contract

Mr. Abel and Mr. Muzzy booted this contract back and forth between them, while the kibit-zers held their collective breath, wondering who was going to make the last and deciding boot.

The Bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 2 ♠ 3 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ All Pass

This dubious honor, as you have guessed, fell to Mr. Muzzy.
And Mr. Abel finally stumbled home with 10 tricks.

The opening lead was the queen of diamonds and Mr. Abel won in his own hand with the king. A small heart was led and Mr. Muzzy flew in with the ace
as if he were afraid of losing it.

He returned the jack of diamonds which was captured by dummy's ace.

CLEAR TRUMPS

After laying down the king of hearts and clearing the trumps,
Mr. Abel stopped to think a moment. He had lost one trick
he was sure to lose a diamond and if he led spades himself it was a mortal sin that he would lose two tricks there.

How good it would be, he thought, to have his left hand opponent lead spades. In that case he was bound to win a trick
with his king.

Now Mr. Abel knows all about throw-in plays. He knows that all safe return cards should be stripped from an opponent's hand before that opponent is presented with the lead. He had already stripped Mr. Muzzy's hand of hearts. Next he planned to strip the clubs. Then he would throw Mr. Muzzy in with a diamond lead.

As you see, this plan was foolproof. Holding the lone ten of diamonds at this point, Mr. Muzzy would be powerless to get out of the way.

But Mr. Abel went too far. He cashed the king of clubs, then led to the ace and saw Mr. Muz-zy's ten drop. If he had stopped here, Mr. Muzzy would have been fixed by a diamond lead. However, he failed to see the danger in his next play—which was to lead a third round of clubs. This gave Mr. Muzzy a golden opportunity to get off the hook.

NO CLUBS

He had no more clubs, so all he had to do was to discard his ten of diamonds. Then a diamond lead would be won by Mr. Meek and he could return a spade
through the king.

Mr. Muzzy muffed it, too. On the third club he made the bril-lian discard of the ten of spades,
telling his partner he wanted that suit led. (Question: How did he think partners could possibly get in?)

Following this welter of errors Mr. Abel finally led a diamond and Mr. Muzzy was end-played and had to lead from his spade holding after all.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

Lay Disease Diagnosis
Brings Medical Score

By Margaret Latrobe
"Say, doc—I was reading about this new disease, and it looks like I've got it, all right."

Your physician if he runs true
o form, isn't going to beam with pleasure and ask for your list of symptoms. First of all, he is inhabitable to the publication of "popular" medical subjects. Next,
he never puts laymen and symptoms together, expecting to come up with a sensible diagnosis. And ast, he has not figured out why people should "waste their time"

reading about ailments.

Many professional men consider that their retired confreres, now engaged in journalistic interning, have somehow violated
the Hippocratic oath. Just how, they don't specify—but they seem to consider any free advice via the printed word as unethical and erroneous nonsense.

Maybe the layman isn't capable of deciding whether his flat feet link symptomatically with kidney stones. Maybe the layman does occasionally come rushing in, prepared to expire from ailments he hasn't got. But, ethical or not, it seems to me that printed discussions of medical questions has done a fine job of filling the reception rooms of all physicians.

The old days of "appointments" is gone, as you doubtless are aware if the migraine or measles has intercepted you recently. You check in, you find a seat if you're lucky, you pick up the January issue of Tooth and Nail—and you wait your turn.

"Appointment" merely tells you what day to show up, and plan on spending the day.

As for the layman's interest
in reading about any desired calamities—this stems from his natural desire to talk things over with someone. The physician, poor guy, hasn't the time to lean back and listen to illnesses hoped for, and symptoms not yet in-capacitory. Didn't you see the folks still waiting outside?
Where is the adhesive and the prescription? That's all today, mister. "If it doesn't clear up,
give me a call."

Relax, gentlemen of medicine.
We untutored laymen aren't trying to become diagnosticians, nor are medical writers attempting to peddle literary remedies. On the contrary, I would guess that many an incipient victim of serious illness has presented himself for treatment as a result of an article. . . and perhaps just in time.

And incidentally, why do all the medico's take the same afternoons off? It's foolhardy for a patient to get sick on Thursday afternoon.
